

BGSF and Arroyo Consulting come together to form a global partnership.

Arroyo Consulting a world-class company who provides on-shore, near-shore and off-shore technology services and BGSF a leading provider of consulting, managed services and workforce solutions have announced a global partnership that will bring together their expertise and capabilities to offer clients a comprehensive suite of services that will leverage the strengths of both companies to deliver innovative solutions across the world. This strategic acquisition by BGSF allows the Arroyo team to expanded business development and bridge the gap of offshore and nearshore solutions for BGSF.

The partnership is founded on the shared vision of BGSF and Arroyo Consulting to establish a worldwide collaboration that will provide solutions through project, support, consulting, and managed services. With Arroyo Consulting's technological expertise and BGSF's workforce solutions experience, the partnership is uniquely positioned to provide clients with unparalleled services.

"We are excited to add this strategic platform to BGSF, which allows us to offer software development and IT consulting services and solutions using resources located outside of the US, our customers have been asking for offshore and nearshore solutions, and we know that the Arroyo team will provide us with the people and expertise needed to expand our high-value business consulting and managed service platforms" said Beth Garvey, chair, president and CEO of BGSF.

"Arroyo and BGSF are identical in our commitment to our employees and our clients. We have a scalable model that is addressing the growing demand for nearshore and offshore resources. Combining the USA market presence of BGSF, with the global technical footprint of Arroyo, creates a powerful team in the IT consulting industry. I know that together we will be stronger and that the great culture that we have built at Arroyo will be made even stronger through this acquisition." said Luis F. Sanchez, general manager of Arroyo Consulting.

The partnership is not only focused on providing exceptional services to clients but also on creating an environment where collaborators can thrive and grow. The combined experience and expertise of both companies will create a dynamic and collaborative work environment that fosters creativity and innovation, and the teams will have access to a wider range of career development opportunities and will benefit from the combined resources of both organizations.

Both organizations are in the people business! Becoming a global organization that understands people, partnerships, and progressive solutions, as well as creating long-term relationships, is exciting to all and represents a great opportunity to bring together two companies with complementary strengths and expertise that delivers unparalleled solutions and services to clients.
